MESSAGE FROM CANTOR JEN ROHER

Starting a New Book - January 2023

Let me begin by saying, Happy secular New Year! In Jewish tradition we have many different opportunities to say Happy New Year, and certainly we can't turn down another opportunity to begin again, an opportunity for a new start, for renewed enthusiasm and motivation. So, Happy New Year! January at the Temple holds some special new beginnings for our community and some special celebrations.

At the beginning of January, we will finish the Book of Genesis, the book that defines the Jewish family. We then begin the Book of Exodus, the story of the Israelites going out from a constricted place into the wilderness. These past many months, we have been involved in a period of looking inward, of reinvigorating our Temple community as we have come somewhat out of the pandemic, restoring our joyful and popular Shabbat services and dinners, regathering for Holy Days and re-energizing our community.

This January, we begin not an Exodus, but perhaps the reverse - welcome visitors from the outside in. Our rabbinic search committee has been very busy reading resumes and conducting initial interviews with a number of stellar candidates, and in January we will begin welcoming prospective rabbis to our Temple home. Many of you will have the chance to meet and learn from these candidates as they interface with our community in a variety of ways.

In addition, we will welcome two more visiting rabbis this spring. First, Rabbi Julie Schwartz will visit the first weekend of February. Rabbi Schwartz is Associate Dean of Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati and has wisdom to share from a variety of experiences and leadership positions. Later in the spring, we will welcome Rabbi Karyn Kedar, Rabbi Emerita of B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim in Deerfield, Illinois, as well as welcoming Rabbi Arnie Sleutelberg back to our congregation for another special visit.

We stand at a pivotal time in our Temple's history. We have this rare opportunity, during this extended year of transition, to open ourselves to encountering many different rabbis and learning from a host of gifted teachers. Already, we have welcomed Rabbi Jamie Gibson, our visiting Interim Rabbi. I also had the chance to welcome Rabbi Matt Green and Rabbi David Sofian to the bimah in December. It is a year of opportunity, and I hope you will all take advantage of the gifts these many rabbis have to offer.

So as we begin our "next book" this January, please join me as we welcome our guests, and give them a big Temple hello. The Israelites encountered all kinds of miracles and wonders on their journey in the Book of Exodus - if we are open to seeing them, hopefully we will encounter them too.

Cantor Jen Roher

Temple Directory

The Temple hopes to print an updated directory in 2023. Before this can be accomplished, we must verify or correct the information of all Temple members. At this time, we are in need of volunteers who would be willing to make some phone calls from their homes. A volunteer would work from a page of our membership spreadsheet to try to contact Temple members who have not already been verified. We expect that it will take some time to complete this phase of the project, but having more volunteers will certainly make the job easier. Maurine Glasser and Judi Fox are going to assist in retyping our new directory once we have secured all of the data. If you think that you can assist, please email Judi at jef212@gmail.com, and she will get back to you by email or phone.

LIBRARY NEWS

The TEMPLE BOOK CLUB will meet on Thursday, January 12, 2023, in the Temple Lounge at 10:30 AM. For a change, we will just visit with Glenda Schwartz and enjoy coffee, tea, and cake, which I will bring. I hope to see our Book Club members turn out for Glenda.

We have the newest spy novel by Daniel Silva, THE CELLIST. Israeli super spy Gabriel Allon investigates the murder of a Russian exile who headed and financed the movement against the Russian Government. Soon, Allon is involved in tracking Russian dirty money that finances authoritarian regimes all over the world and threatens the governments of the West.

Michael Oren's book, ALLY, covers all aspects of the sometimes complicated relationship between the United States and Israel. Mr. Oren, born and educated in the United States, was Israel's Ambassador to the U.S. He has a unique perspective.
